Global Caché and Calypso Announce Reseller Agreement

Calypso to include Global Caché Network Adapter with Corporate Solutions

San Jose, CA – July 22, 2004 –Calypso Design, a provider of innovative solutions serving corporate, educational, and broadcast industries, and Global Caché, a manufacturer of products that enable technology in homes and businesses, announced today they have signed a Value Added Reseller (VAR) agreement. The agreement allows Calypso to bundle the Global Caché GC-100 Network Adapter, and other Global Caché connectivity products, with its acclaimed video communication and broadcast solutions. Calypso products include software and hardware solutions that simplify, enable, and control video communications for TV stations, stadiums, museums, and educational facilities. The Global Caché GC-100 Network Adapter IP-enables devices so that they can be controlled and communicate over a network and the Internet. Global Caché also provides infrared (IR) learning devices, sensors, and analog to digital connectivity products. Combined, the products offer a powerful and cost effective solution for controlling and automating any environment.

“By integrating Global Caché’s innovative products with ours we are better able to address the needs of several unique markets, including TV broadcast and education,” said Rick Mathewson President of Calypso Design. “We have been serving these markets and other unique vertical markets for many years, so we know the solutions they are looking for. We’re confident that the combination of Global Caché products, our technical expertise and products, along with our market experience is going to produce some very successful results going forward.”

“We’re very excited about the opportunity to work with Calypso and serve markets that we have not participated in before,” said Global Caché President Walt Keller. “Our products have been very successful in the home technology market, but this is our first foray into the vertical markets that Calypso serves. Our products are perfectly suited for these markets and Calypso is very experienced there so we think the partnership is an excellent one.”
