Global Caché Expands Distribution into Mexico

Controlite to Distribute Global Caché Products for Residential and Commercial Automation and Control Solutions

Jacksonville, OR – July 26, 2005 – Global Caché, the award winning provider of IP-enabling products for homes and businesses, announced today it has begun selling products into Mexico, represented by Controlite, a partner company of Mirage Window Coverings, Electrolighting Mexicana and Lenslite.

Global Caché's flagship product, the GC-100 Network Adapter, is designed to IP-enable devices and appliances that otherwise could not be connected to a network, bringing Ethernet connectivity to infrared (IR) devices, serial (RS232) devices, and relay switches (contact closure), allowing them to be controlled using IP-based software. Global Caché also supplies IR learning devices, IR receivers, and sensors for use over networks. Controlite distributes automation and control solutions into both the residential and commercial markets. Controlite is a full service distributor, providing technical support, training, and software development services to custom electronics integrators and installers.

“We consider Mexico to be an important market and are pleased that Controlite has chosen to sell and support our products throughout the country, further expanding our worldwide reach,” said Walt Keller, Global Caché President. “Controlite has the experience, the marketing savvy, and the technical know-how to effectively promote and support the family of Global Caché products, which are quickly becoming an important part of open system installations.”

Controlite Director, Isaac Roizen added, “Our focus on providing the highest quality solutions at a cost-effective price, naturally led us to Global Caché. We're delighted that we are able to introduce these versatile and powerful IP-enabling products into the Mexican market. They are a perfect fit into our current product line. ”
