Global Caché Expands European Distribution With Tukans in the UK

Tukans to Sell and Support Global Caché Products in the United Kingdom

Jacksonville, OR– January 18, 2005 – Global Caché, a leading provider of award-winning products that enable technology in homes and businesses announced today it will begin selling and supporting the complete line of Global Caché products, including the GC-100 Network Adapter, in the United Kingdom through Tukans, a UK distributor focused on audio visual products.

Global Caché's products include the GC-100 Network Adapter, a flexible and easy to use hardware device connecting IR, serial and digital I/O (relay) devices to a network. The GC-100 addresses the growing number of home and businesses with high-bandwidth Internet and networking capability and enables the use of network-based software to control and automate diverse devices. In addition, Global Caché provides IR learning devices, receivers, sensors, and conversion cabling to connect previously unconnected systems to a network. Global Caché products are based upon open systems and accepted industry standards.

“We're pleased that Tukans will be representing our products in the UK,” said Robin Ford, VP of Business Development for Global Caché. “The market is really heating up in the UK for our products, and Tukans' focus on value add products for the audio visual market and their technical ability to support our products makes them an excellent distributor for us.”

Tukans Director of Sales Andrew Popely added, “We're excited that Global Caché has chosen us to represent them in the UK. Their IP-enabling products are something the UK market needs, and that need is growing. We believe these products will be very popular with our current customers and will be instrumental in growing our customer base going forward.”
